4.A. Description of Advisory Firm

Hui-chin Chen, CFP® and Sefa Mawuli, CFP® are the firm's Principal Owners and Managing Partners. Sefa Mawuli also serves as the firm's Chief Compliance Officer.

Jade & Cowry LLC obtained its initial registration with the Commonwealth of Virginia on August 11, 2010. The firm later registered with the following states/jurisdictions: District of Columbia (August 28, 2017), California (July 16, 2019), Maryland (April 27, 2022), New York (January 4, 2023), and Washington State (March 3, 2026). Assets Under Management managed on a discretionary basis were $65,108,035 as of December 31, 2025.

4.B. Types of Advisory Services

Jade & Cowry provides financial planning and investment advisory and consultation services. The services are packaged into the following programs:

- GPS Planning Program: Annual Ongoing Comprehensive Financial Planning and Investment Advisory Services
- Hourly Advisory Consulting Services

GPS Planning Program (Annual Ongoing Comprehensive Financial Planning and Investment Advisory Services)

For this service offering, we provide ongoing comprehensive financial planning and investment advisory services in flat annual fee tiers, which are based on the complexity of the client's situation (refer to the Item 5.A. for a description of the fee tiers). This involves initial planning, ongoing support, and periodic updates to the initial strategy as clients' lives evolve. The services include, but are not limited to:

1) Reviewing and planning for retirement, tax, education, major purchases, debt management, investments, life and disability insurance needs, long-term care needs, and estate planning issues.
2) Monitoring budget, investment performance, and the progress of action step implementation

3) Reviewing employer provided benefits / planning benefits for self-employed

4) Analyzing financial impact of potential life changes or options to help clients make decisions

5) Answering or referring clients' personal finance-related questions to experts as needed

As part of the ongoing comprehensive financial planning services, we provide investment advisory services and portfolio management at no additional cost. We provide continuous advice regarding the investment of clients' funds based on individual clients' needs.

Jade & Cowry's process includes a thorough review of the client's goals and objectives, risk tolerance, short-term and long-term liquidity needs and other pertinent information. The firm also reviews the client's prior investment history, family composition and background.

Once we have a thorough understanding of the client's situation, we develop a client's personal investment plan using an asset allocation strategy. We create and manage portfolios based on the plan's allocation targets.

Clients may opt to have Jade & Cowry manage their investment portfolios. When we manage clients' assets, the firm does so on a discretionary basis. This means that while the advisor will communicate regularly with the client, Jade & Cowry will not seek specific approval of changes within the client's portfolio. Because we take discretion when managing client accounts, clients will be asked to execute a Limited Power of Attorney granting the firm discretionary authority over the client's account through an Investment Management Agreement that outlines the responsibilities of both the client and the firm.

For assets that Jade & Cowry does not manage, we will review and recommend changes periodically. Because some recommendations may be time-sensitive, they may not be implemented if we are unable to reach the client in a timely manner, which may negatively impact performance.

Account supervision is guided by the Investment Policy Statement (IPS), which incorporates the client's stated objectives and tax considerations. Jade & Cowry reviews the accounts regularly and rebalances periodically as needed. We may also perform tax loss harvesting when appropriate. Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

Jade & Cowry recommends low-cost, no-load mutual funds, exchange-traded funds, equities, bonds and other securities to build a globally diversified portfolio necessary to meet the client's investment objectives.

For WA Clients Only: Financial planning services are typically completed within a year or a lesser term. Any further reviews may be performed in another contractual engagement as agreed to by the Client and Advisor.

Hourly Advisory Consulting Services

Jade & Cowry addresses clients' project-based financial concerns that do not warrant an ongoing comprehensive engagement. The guidance is not comprehensive and is limited to what clients disclose.

1. Specialized Complexity and Expertise

The Adviser's hourly consulting services are not "standard" financial planning. The firm specializes in two highly technical areas:

- Cross-Border Financial Planning: Navigating the tax treaties, reporting requirements (FBAR, FATCA), and multi-jurisdictional investment account complexities inherent in cross-border finances.
- Equity Compensation: Deep-dive analysis of NSOs, ISOs, RSUs, and concentrated stock positions for tech professionals.

These services require a higher level of technical proficiency and ongoing education than general financial planning. In fact, other advisors frequently refer their clients to Jade & Cowry for hourly services. In the industry, specialized niche consulting (like cross-border tax and equity) commands a premium rate due to the scarcity of qualified advisors and the high financial stakes for clients.

2. Accessibility and Low Minimums

A key differentiator for Jade & Cowry is the one-hour engagement minimum. Many reputable cross-border firms require high asset minimums ($1M+) or significant flat-fee retainers ($5,000+), effectively locking out many clients.

- By offering a one-hour minimum, Jade & Cowry provides access to specialized advice for clients who may only need a specific problem solved. While the hourly rate is higher, the total cost to the client is often significantly lower than the minimum fees required by other specialist firms.

Educational Seminars and Speaking Engagements

Jade & Cowry may provide educational seminars or perform speaking engagements for groups seeking general advice on personal finance and investing topics. The content will vary depending upon the interests of the attendees. These seminars are purely educational in nature and do not involve the sale of any insurance or investment products. Information presented will not be based on any individual's need, and Jade & Cowry does not provide individualized investment advice to attendees during these informational sessions.

Jade & Cowry does not offer Educational Seminars and Speaking Engagements in the State of Washington.

4.C. Wrap Fee Programs

Jade & Cowry does not participate in wrap-fee programs.

CCR Section 260.235.2 Disclosure

For Clients who receive our financial planning services, Jade & Cowry must state when a conflict exists between the interests of the firm and the interests of the Client. The Client is under no obligation to act upon Jade & Cowry's recommendation. If the Client elects to act on any of the recommendations, the Client is under no obligation to effect the transaction through the firm.

5. Fees and Compensation

Jade & Cowry offers services to clients in two ways. Below is a brief summary of the key differences among them. For a detailed fee structure and billing methods, please refer to the individual section below the table.

The Adviser's hourly fee of $500 reflects the specialized nature of cross-border and equity compensation planning provided. Clients are advised that this fee may be higher than the industry standard for general financial planning services. Similar services may be available from other investment advisers at a lower cost.

For Maryland Clients: The hourly rate may exceed the rate charged by other advisors offering similar services in Maryland.

5.A. Fees for Advisory Services

GPS Planning Program	Hourly Advisory Consulting Services
Comprehensive Financial Planning and Investment Advisory	Limited scope
Ongoing	One-time
Continuous support, monitoring, and planning updates	No support after project completion
Annual fee paid monthly: $525 – $1,260 / month, based on complexity	$500 / hour Minimum 1 hour
Minimum 12 months commitment	No commitment

Fees for Annual Comprehensive Financial Planning and Investment Advisory Services (GPS Planning Program)

The GPS Planning Program is Jade & Cowry's flagship offering since 2013. Under this program, Clients receive continuous financial guidance, monitoring, and planning updates. Jade & Cowry works like a GPS to help clients define, plan and arrive at their life goal destinations.

(To learn more about the full program experience, please refer to the "What to Expect" document available after an introductory meeting.)

This program is particularly suited for clients who desire an ongoing relationship and accountability in a partner to manage their finances together.

The fee for this service is a fixed fee based on the complexity of the client's financial needs and situation. Factors considered in setting the client fee may include: number of household members, amount of financial planning required, number and type of accounts, composition of the client's existing investment portfolio, life stage, business interests, stock options, real estate ownership, multi-country planning considerations, trust arrangements, etc.

While there is no income requirement or minimum investment account size to join the program, Jade & Cowry charges a minimum ongoing fee of $525 per month.

Jade & Cowry charges one of the four following fee tiers for continuous services:

- Tier 1: $6,300 (billed monthly at $525)
- Tier 2: $8,820 (billed monthly at $735)
- Tier 3: $11,340 (billed monthly at $945)
- Tier 4: $15,120 (billed monthly at $1,260)

During the free introductory meeting, we will assess the complexity level of the client's financial situation and determine the client's annual fee.

Jade & Cowry's comprehensive fee may exceed 3% of the client's total assets under management (AUM). Investment management fees greater than 3% of a client's total AUM is in excess of the industry norm and similar advisory services can be obtained for less. Please note that the comprehensive fee includes payment for comprehensive financial planning and investment advisory services. Jade & Cowry does not specifically charge for investment management, and views this service as a part of the implementation of the client's overall financial plan. Clients should carefully review the description of our fees and services to fully understand the services covered by the comprehensive fee.

The execution of the financial planning agreement marks the client's decision to receive and pay for the continuous service. The first payment covers all services provided to the client from the date that the client signed the agreement to the date that Jade & Cowry charges the first payment.

For WA Clients Only: For Clients whose primary residence is in the state of Washington, fees for The GPS Planning Program is a flat 1.25% of assets under management and is negotiable. The annual advisory fee is paid monthly in arrears based on the average daily balance of the Client's account(s) during the billing period.

Our advisory fee is prorated for any partial billing periods occurring during the engagement, including the initial and terminating billing periods.

This service includes investment management services and ongoing financial planning.

Fees for Hourly Advisory Consulting Services

For project-based financial concerns that do not warrant an ongoing comprehensive engagement, Jade & Cowry provides hourly consulting engagements. The guidance is not comprehensive and is limited to what clients disclose.

We provide hourly consultations at $500 per hour. We require a minimum of 1 hour of engagement. Beyond the first hour, we will bill Clients at half- hour increments. Jade & Cowry will estimate the minimum hours required to complete the project before the Client signs the contract.

The fee is not negotiable. However, a discount may be given if the client exhibits financial hardship.

For WA Clients Only: Project-Based Financial Planning is offered at an hourly rate of $500, billed in 15-minute increments. Fees are not negotiable. Prior to beginning services, the Advisor will provide the Client an estimate of hours to complete the project-based plan. Advisor will not exceed the estimated hours without prior Client consent. $500 is due at the beginning of the process, and the remainder is due at completion of work.

5.B. Fee Billing

Billing for Annual Comprehensive Financial Planning and Investment Advisory Services (GPS Planning Program)

The annual fee for services is billed monthly or quarterly in arrears in one of two ways:

1. Monthly, through Electronic Funds Transfer
    - Jade & Cowry invites clients to authorize monthly recurring billing through ACH transfers from their checking accounts to the firm's business checking account. Clients receive e-mail notification of their transfers, which serves as an invoice, two days prior to the monthly transfer date.
2. Quarterly, debited directly from the client's investment account
    - At the discretion of the Client, Jade & Cowry will instruct the qualified, independent custodian holding clients' funds and securities to deduct the fee directly from the client's account each quarter by submitting an invoice to the custodian indicating the account number and amount of fees to be paid.

For WA Clients Only: For Project-Based Financial Planning services, fees for this service are paid by electronic funds transfer or check. We use an independent third party payment processor in which the Client can securely input their banking information and pay their fee. We do not have access to the Client's banking information at any time. The Client will be provided with their own secure portal in order to make payments. Each time a fee is charged, Advisor will provide the Client with an itemized invoice. The invoice will include the fee, the formula used to calculate the fee, the time period covered by the fee, and the specific tasks the Advisor performed to earn its fees.

Billing for Hourly Advisory Consulting Services

Clients will sign the financial consultation agreement and authorize a one-time billing of the one-hour fee through ACH transfers from their checking accounts to the firm's business checking account.

Clients may be invoiced for time beyond the initial 1-hour engagement if Jade & Cowry requires extra time to review information, meet with clients, or to provide a final written summary.

Clients may terminate contracts without penalty within five business days of signing the consultation agreement or at any time afterwards without incurring a penalty.

5.C. Additional Fees and Expenses

Clients may pay fees related to the implementation of the plan directly to third parties, such as brokerage firms, mutual fund companies, tax accountants, insurance agents, and estate attorneys. Jade & Cowry does not receive any compensation from these parties and does not bill or collect fees on their behalf.

As part of our Comprehensive Financial Planning and Investment Advisory services, Jade & Cowry may invest or recommend that clients invest in mutual funds and exchange traded funds. The fees that clients pay to the firm are separate and distinct from the fees and expenses charged by mutual funds or exchange traded funds (described in each fund's prospectus) to their shareholders. These fees will generally include a management fee and other fund expenses. Clients may also incur transaction charges and/or brokerage fees when purchasing or selling securities. The broker-dealer or custodian through whom clients' account transactions are executed typically imposes these charges and fees. Jade & Cowry does not share in any portion of the brokerage fees/transaction charges imposed by the broker-dealer or custodian. We strongly recommend that clients review all the fees charged by mutual funds, exchange traded funds, Jade & Cowry and others to fully understand the total cost that they will incur. For information on Jade & Cowry's brokerage practices, please refer to the "Brokerage Practices" section of this brochure.

5.D. Termination and Refunds

Termination and Refunds: Annual Comprehensive Financial Planning and Investment Advisory Services (GPS Planning Program)

Clients and Jade & Cowry may terminate their contract without penalty within five business days of signing and acceptance of the financial planning agreement. After the five business day period, clients may cancel at any time upon 30 days written notice. Because Jade & Cowry charges monthly fees in arrears, a refund is not necessary.

Jade & Cowry reviews fee arrangements annually. Following the initial 12-month service period, the firm may adjust the flat annual fee, provided such adjustments are made with the client's prior written consent.

Former participants of GPS Planning Program may re-enter the GPS Planning Program. However, the 12 months minimum commitment is required whenever former clients rejoin the program.

The fee is not negotiable.

Jade & Cowry reserves the right to reject clients' application into the program if they are not willing to participate in the program for at least 12 months. Clients are encouraged to consider an hourly consultation for project-based engagements.

Termination and Refunds: Hourly Advisory Consulting Services

If the work does not commence within six months, Jade & Cowry will refund the initial $500.

Jade & Cowry charges the consultation fees after the consultation services are delivered, therefore no refund is necessary.

5.E. Compensation for Sales of Securities

Jade & Cowry does not accept compensation for the sale of securities or other investment products including asset-based sales charges or service fees from the sale of mutual funds.

6. Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Jade & Cowry does not charge performance-based fees.

7. Types of Clients

Jade & Cowry may provide advice to the following types of investment advisory clients:

A. Individuals

B. Trusts and Estates

Jade & Cowry does not have a minimum account size requirement.

8. Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Jade & Cowry uses methods of analysis that are consistent with the project and the client's financial profile.

Passive Investment Management

Jade & Cowry practices passive investment management. Passive investing involves building portfolios that are comprised of several distinct asset classes. The asset classes are weighted in a manner to achieve a desired relationship between risk and return. Funds that passively capture the returns of the desired asset classes are placed in the portfolio. The funds that are used to build passive portfolios are typically low-cost, broadly diversified mutual funds, exchange traded funds, and bonds.

When indicated by client preference, Environment, Social, and Governance (ESG) screen or selection may be imposed on top of the methods mentioned above. In such cases, portfolio composition and performance may deviate from broad market index.

Jade & Cowry generally does not advise clients on the purchase of securities other than those listed above, however sometimes clients already have other assets, including individual stocks, actively managed mutual funds, etc., prior to working with Jade & Cowry. In these cases, the firm advises clients on whether or not they should keep those securities, considering the client's specific circumstances and any potential negative tax consequences.

We also advise clients on the purchase and sale of employer stock offered through various employee benefit plans and employer compensation programs.

Passive investment management is characterized by low portfolio expenses (i.e. the funds inside the portfolio have low internal costs), minimal trading costs (due to infrequent trading activity), and relative tax efficiency (because the funds inside the portfolio are tax efficient and turnover inside the portfolio is minimal).

In contrast, active management involves a single manager or managers who employ some method, strategy or technique to construct a portfolio that is intended to generate returns that are greater than the broader market or a designated benchmark. Academic research indicates most active managers underperform the market.

Use of Outside Managers

Jade & Cowry does not refer clients to third-party investment advisers ("outside managers").

Material Risks Involved

All investing strategies involve risk and may result in loss of the original investment which clients should be prepared to bear. Many of these risks apply equally to stocks, bonds, commodities and any other investment or security. The following are some of the material risks associated with Jade & Cowry's investment strategies.

Market Risk: Market risk involves the possibility that an investment's current market value will fall because of a general market decline, reducing the value of the investment regardless of the operational success of the issuer's operations or its financial condition.

Political Risk: Most investments have a global component, even domestic stocks. Political events anywhere in the world may have unforeseen consequences to markets around the world.

Small and Medium Cap Company Risk: Securities of companies with small and medium market capitalizations are often more volatile and less liquid than investments in larger companies. Small and medium cap companies may face a greater risk of business failure, which could increase the volatility of the client's portfolio.

Turnover Risk: At times, the strategy may have a portfolio turnover rate that is higher than other strategies. A high portfolio turnover would result in correspondingly greater brokerage commission expenses and may result in the distribution of additional capital gains for tax purposes. These factors may negatively affect the account's performance.

Limited markets: Certain securities may be less liquid (harder to sell or buy) and their prices may at times be more volatile than at other times. Under certain market conditions we may be unable to sell or liquidate investments at prices we consider reasonable or favorable, or find buyers at any price.

Concentration Risk: Certain investment strategies focus on particular asset-classes, industries, sectors or types of investment. From time to time these strategies may be subject to greater risks of adverse developments in such areas of focus than a strategy that is more broadly diversified across a wider variety of investments.

Interest Rate Risk: Bond (fixed income) prices generally fall when interest rates rise, and the value may fall below par value or the principal investment. The opposite is also generally true: bond prices generally rise when interest rates fall. In general, fixed income securities with longer maturities are more sensitive to these price changes. Most other investments are also sensitive to the level and direction of interest rates.

Legal or Legislative Risk: Legislative changes or Court rulings may impact the value of investments, or the securities' claim on the issuer's assets and finances.

Inflation: Inflation may erode the buying-power of your investment portfolio, even if the dollar value of your investments remains the same.

Risks Associated with Securities

Apart from the general risks outlined above which apply to all types of investments, specific securities may have other risks.

Common stocks may go up and down in price quite dramatically, and in the event of an issuer's bankruptcy or restructuring could lose all value. A slower-growth or recessionary economic environment could have an adverse effect on the price of all stocks.

Corporate Bonds are debt securities to borrow money. Generally, issuers pay investors periodic interest and repay the amount borrowed either periodically during the life of the security and/or at maturity. Alternatively, investors can purchase other debt securities, such as zero-coupon bonds, which do not pay current interest, but rather are priced at a discount from their face values and their values accrete over time to face value at maturity. The market prices of debt securities fluctuate depending on such factors as interest rates, credit quality, and maturity. In general, market prices of debt securities decline when interest rates rise and increase when interest rates fall. The longer the time to a bond's maturity, the greater its interest rate risk.

Bank Obligations including bonds and certificates of deposit may be vulnerable to setbacks or panics in the banking industry. Banks and other financial institutions are greatly affected by interest rates and may be adversely affected by downturns in the U.S. and foreign economies or changes in banking regulations.

Municipal Bonds are debt obligations generally issued to obtain funds for various public purposes, including the construction of public facilities. Municipal bonds pay a lower rate of return than most other types of bonds. However, because of a municipal bond's tax-favored status, investors should compare the relative after-tax return to the after-tax return of other bonds, depending on the investor's tax bracket. Investing in municipal bonds carries the same general risks as investing in bonds in general. Those risks include interest rate risk, reinvestment risk, inflation risk, market risk, call or redemption risk, credit risk, and liquidity and valuation risk.

Exchange Traded Funds prices may vary significantly from the Net Asset Value due to market conditions. Certain Exchange Traded Funds may not track underlying benchmarks as expected. ETFs are also subject to the following risks: (i) an ETF's shares may trade at a market price that is above or below their net asset value; (ii) the ETF may employ an investment strategy that utilizes high leverage ratios; or (iii) trading of an ETF's shares may be halted if the listing exchange's officials deem such action appropriate, the shares are de-listed from the exchange, or the activation of market-wide "circuit breakers" (which are tied to large decreases in stock prices) halts stock trading generally. The Adviser has no control over the risks taken by the underlying funds in which client's invest.

Investment Companies Risk. When a client invests in open end mutual funds or ETFs, the client indirectly bears its proportionate share of any fees and expenses payable directly by those funds. Therefore, the client will incur higher expenses, many of which may be duplicative. In addition, the client's overall portfolio may be affected by losses of an underlying fund and the level of risk arising from the investment practices of an underlying fund (such as the use of derivatives).

To address this conflict, it is our policy that neither our firm or access persons shall have priority over Clients' accounts in the purchase or sale of securities.

12. Brokerage Practices

Factors Used to Select Custodians and/or Broker-Dealers

Jade & Cowry does not have any affiliation with Broker-Dealers. Specific custodian recommendations are made to clients based on their need for such services. Jade & Cowry recommends custodians based on the reputation and services provided by the firm.

Research and Other Soft-Dollar Benefits

Jade & Cowry does not receive soft dollar benefits.

Brokerage for Client Referrals

Jade & Cowry receives no referrals from a broker-dealer or third party in exchange for using that broker-dealer or third party.

Directed Brokerage

Jade & Cowry recommends a specific custodian for clients to use when Jade & Cowry manages clients' portfolio on a discretionary basis. The firm's preferred and recommended custodian is Charles Schwab. As a result, Jade & Cowry relies on the best execution practices of the custodian to achieve most favorable execution of client transactions. However, the custodian's inability to achieve the most favorable execution on a per transaction basis may cost clients money over using a lower-cost custodian.

The custodian and brokers Jade & Cowry Uses (Charles Schwab) for managing clients' assets on a discretionary basis

Jade & Cowry recommends that clients use Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. ("Schwab"), a registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, as the qualified custodian. Jade & Cowry is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with Schwab.

Schwab will hold client assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when Jade & Cowry instructs them to. While Jade & Cowry recommends that clients use Schwab as custodian broker, clients will decide whether to do so and will open their account with Schwab by entering into an account agreement directly with Schwab. Jade & Cowry does not open the account for the client, although Jade & Cowry may assist the client in doing so. Even though the account is maintained at Schwab, Jade & Cowry can still use other brokers to execute trades for the account as described below (see "Brokerage and custody costs")

How Jade & Cowry selects brokers/custodians

Jade & Cowry seeks to recommend a custodian/broker that will hold client assets and execute transactions on terms that are overall most advantageous when compared with other available providers and their services. Jade & Cowry considers a wide range of factors, including:

- Combination of transaction execution services and asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody)
- Capability to execute, clear, and settle trades (buy and sell securities for the account)
- Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts (wire transfers, check requests, bill payment, etc.)
- Breadth of available investment products (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), etc.)
- Availability of investment research and tools that assist Jade & Cowry in making investment decisions

- Quality of services
- Competitiveness of the price of those services (commission rates, margin interest rates, other fees, etc.) and willingness to negotiate the prices
- Reputation, financial strength, security and stability
- Prior service to Jade & Cowry and its clients
- Availability of other products and services that benefit Jade & Cowry, as discussed below (see "Products and services available to Jade & Cowry from Schwab")

Brokerage and custody costs

For client accounts that Schwab maintains, Schwab generally does not charge clients separately for custody services, but is compensated by charging commissions or other fees on trades that it executes or that settle into clients' Schwab accounts. Certain trades (for example, many mutual funds and ETFs) may not incur Schwab commissions or transaction fees.

Products and services available to Jade & Cowry from Schwab

Schwab Advisor Services™ is Schwab's business serving independent investment advisory firms like Jade & Cowry. Schwab provides Jade & Cowry and its clients with access to their institutional brokerage services (trading, custody, reporting and related services), many of which are not typically available to Schwab retail customers. Schwab also makes available various support services. Some of those services help Jade & Cowry manage or administer clients' accounts, while others help Jade & Cowry manage and grow its business. Schwab's support services are generally available on an unsolicited basis (Jade & Cowry does not have to request them) and at no charge to Jade & Cowry.

The following is a more detailed description of Schwab's support services:

Services that benefit clients

Schwab's institutional brokerage services include access to a broad range of investment products, execution of securities transactions, and custody of client assets. The investment products available through Schwab include some to which Jade & Cowry might not otherwise have access or that would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment by our clients. Schwab's services described in this paragraph generally benefit clients and their accounts.

Services that may not directly benefit the client

Schwab also makes available to Jade & Cowry other products and services that benefit Jade & Cowry but may not directly benefit clients and their accounts. These products and services assist Jade & Cowry in managing and administering clients' accounts. They include investment research, both Schwab's own and that of third parties. Jade & Cowry may use this research to service all or a substantial number of our clients' accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab. In addition to investment research, Schwab also makes available software and other technology that:

- provide access to client account data (such as duplicate trade confirmations and account statements)
- facilitate trade execution and allocate aggregated trade orders for multiple client accounts
- provide pricing and other market data
- facilitate payment of Jade & Cowry fees from our clients' accounts
- assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping, and client reporting

Services that generally benefit only the firm

Schwab also offers other services intended to help us manage and further develop our business enterprise. These services include:

- Educational conferences and events
- Consulting on technology, compliance, legal, and business needs
- Publications and conferences on practice management and business succession

Jade & Cowry receives a benefit because Jade & Cowry does not have to produce or pay for the research, products or services. Jade & Cowry may have an incentive to select or recommend a broker-dealer based on the firm's interest in receiving the research or other products or services, rather than on the clients' interest in receiving the most favorable execution. While this is a potential conflict of interest, Jade & Cowry believes that its selection of Schwab as a custodian (when it manages assets on a discretionary basis) is primarily supported by the scope, quality, and price of Schwab's services, and not Schwab's services that benefit only us.

Aggregating (Block) Trading for Multiple Client Accounts

Investment advisers may elect to purchase or sell the same securities for several clients at approximately the same time when they believe such action may prove advantageous to clients. This process is referred to as aggregating orders, batch trading or block trading. Jade & Cowry does not engage in block trading. It should be noted that implementing trades on a block or aggregate basis may be less expensive for client accounts; however, Jade & Cowry's trading policy is to implement all client orders on an individual basis. Therefore, Jade & Cowry does not aggregate or "block" client transactions. Considering the types of investments that Jade & Cowry holds in advisory client accounts, the firm does not believe that clients are hindered in any way because the firm trades accounts individually. This is because Jade & Cowry develops individualized investment strategies for clients and holdings may vary. The firm's strategies are primarily developed for the long-term and minor differences in price execution are not material to the overall investment strategy.

13. Review of Accounts

Client accounts managed by Jade & Cowry on a discretionary basis will be monitored regularly on quarterly basis by Hui-chin Chen, Principal Owner and Managing Partner, and Sefa Mawuli, Principal Owner, Managing Partner and Chief Compliance Officer. The accounts will be reviewed with regards to the client's investment policies. All other accounts that only clients have access to are reviewed periodically and at a minimum once per year.

Hui-chin Chen and Sefa Mawuli meet with clients to review and update their goals and strategies annually to ensure that the advisory services provided to clients and/or the portfolio mix are consistent with the client's goals and investment needs.

Additional reviews may be conducted based on various circumstances, including, but not limited to:

- Material life events such as change in employment, change in location, marriage, divorce, sale of a business, receiving inheritance, etc.
- Year-end tax planning,
- Market moving events,
- Security specific events, and/or,

- Changes in clients' risk/return objectives.

Jade & Cowry will update Investment Policies as needed. Additionally, clients will receive monthly and/or quarterly reports from the qualified, independent custodian holding their funds and securities. Clients may also access these reports electronically. Jade & Cowry may provide client performance reports for the clients' accounts that the firm manages.

14. Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Jade & Cowry LLC (DBA Jade & Cowry, Pavlov Financial Planning) does not receive any economic benefit, directly or indirectly, from any third party for advice rendered to clients, nor does the firm compensate any individual or firm for client referrals.

The firm does receive a benefit from Schwab in the form of the support products and services it makes available to us and other independent investment advisors whose clients maintain their accounts at Schwab. These products and services, how they benefit us, and the related conflicts of interest are described above in Item 12—Brokerage Practices.

15. Custody

Jade & Cowry does not have custody of clients' funds or securities, although the firm may be deemed to have custody of clients' assets if the client authorizes Jade & Cowry to withdraw advisory fees from their account. Jade & Cowry has limited access to clients' accounts, which includes the ability to place trades, to discuss their accounts with the custodian, to directly debit advisory fees from client accounts, and to distribute funds directly to the client.

Jade & Cowry does not accept custody of client funds. Clients should receive at least quarterly statements from the independent, qualified custodian that holds and maintains the client's investment assets. Jade & Cowry urges clients to carefully review such statements and compare such official custodial records to the account statements or reports that Jade & Cowry may provide. Jade & Cowry statements may vary from custodial statements based on accounting procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies of certain securities.

In cases where Jade & Cowry directly debits the advisory fee from a client's accounts:

- Jade & Cowry sends a copy of its invoice to the custodian at the same time that it sends a copy to the Client.
- The client will provide written authorization to Jade & Cowry in the initial client agreement, permitting Jade & Cowry to debit directly for their accounts held by the custodian.
- The custodian will send at least quarterly statements to the client showing all disbursements for the account, including the amount of the advisory fee.

For WA Clients Only: Advisor will deliver a written billing statement to Clients each time we charge an advisory fee. The written billing statement will include the fee(s) charged, the formula used to calculate the fee(s), the fee calculation itself, the amount of assets under management the fee is based on (if applicable), the time period covered by the fee(s), and the name of the custodian(s), if applicable.

16. Investment Discretion

Jade & Cowry offers discretionary investment management over client accounts. Investment discretion is explained to clients in detail at the beginning of an advisory relationship. Before Jade & Cowry can buy or sell securities on behalf of a client, the client must first sign a Limited Power of Attorney which will grant the firm discretion over the account and/or trading authorization forms. Additionally, the discretionary relationship will be outlined in the client agreement and signed by the client.

Clients may impose reasonable restrictions on investing in certain securities, types of securities, or industry sectors.

17. Voting Client Securities

Proxy Voting

Jade & Cowry LLC (DBA Jade & Cowry, Pavlov Financial Planning) does not vote proxies on behalf of clients' advisory accounts. At the client's request, Jade & Cowry may offer advice regarding corporate actions and the exercise of the client's proxy voting rights. If the client own shares of common stock or mutual funds, the client is responsible for exercising their right to vote as a shareholder.

In most cases, clients will receive proxy materials directly from the account custodian. However, in the event that Jade & Cowry were to receive any written or electronic proxy materials, Jade & Cowry would forward them directly to the client by mail, unless the client has authorized the firm to contact them by electronic mail, in which case, Jade & Cowry would forward any electronic solicitation to vote proxies.

18. Financial Information

Jade & Cowry is not required to provide a balance sheet with this brochure because the firm:

- Does not require or solicit the prepayment of more than $500 per client, six or more months in advance.
- Does not have a financial condition that is reasonably likely to impair its ability to meet its commitments to clients.

Neither Jade & Cowry nor its related persons have been the subject of any bankruptcy petitions.
